

FROM POINTS AROUND.

[REPORTED SPECIALLY FOR THE STAR.]

DAYTON, KY.—People who feel disposed to encourage by their presence the development of our latent baseball talent and muscle will have an opportunity of witnessing an excellent game on Saturday, between the McArthur Club, of this city, and the Kingsdale, of Newport. The game will be played on the grounds of the McArthur Club, at the foot of McKinney street.

CALIFORNIA, O.—On account of the low water, it is becoming difficult for the large boats to land at our wharf.

If a little will power is exercised in our village, the steamer J. M. McArthur, as a California packet, will be a success. Will it be done?

A good time is expected at the Odd-fellows' picnic to-morrow.

FRANKFORT, KY.—Gov. McCreary will be inaugurated next Tuesday.

The Baptist Church at this place, one of the most active working and prosperous societies in the State, has a former Union General as its pastor, and numbers among its deacons an Ex-Confederate Colonel and two officers of the State Penitentiary. The Governor of the State is one of the members of the society.

LAWRENCEBURG, IND.—Mrs. Jas. McClester, on Tuesday, accidentally struck her mother-in-law with a shovel while she was lifting a lump of coal, causing a painful wound.

The Gas Company will send a hundred barrels of coal to Indianapolis next week.

The Gaff distillery is doing a heavy business now.

Mr. Goodman, the foreman of Dobell's furniture factory, is reported ill.

Sam Young, the young man who knocked down Mr. Crosby in June last, as detailed in the Star, has been fined $25.

NICHOLASVILLE, KY.—Daniel Scott, who had his arm amputated a few days ago, is doing well.

Miss Lela Barkley, who has been quite ill for some time, is reported better.

Mr. George Selig, who is running a steam thresh, represents the wheat crop, that is saved to be yielding well and of better quality than was at first anticipated.

Mr. E. S. Woods has remodeled the front of the dwelling he purchased from Mr. Henry Crow, which has much improved its appearance.

Hon. M. J. Durham, Clifton Rhodes and J. W. Proctor, of the Central National, and Geo. Welch, Jr., of the First National Bank, of Danville, are in attendance at court.

The congregation at the M. E. Church (South) at this place, on Sunday last, decided to propose to the annual conference, which meets at Mayfield this afternoon, to appoint the growing little city of Nicholasville as the place of meeting in 1876.

LUUDOW, KY.—Our public schools commence on the 6th of September. Parents will take notice, and have their children ready for the opening day.

Mayor's Court—J. H. Berkenkamp, assault and battery, $2 and costs; N. Oshner, selling beer without city license, $20 and costs. It is fair to state that Mr. Oshner complied with the city ordinance regulating the sale of beer, so far as furnishing a petition properly signed, but the Council not deeming him a proper person to license, refused the prayer of his petition. The case will be brought to the mayor's court to test the validity of the assumed discretionary power of our city judges.

Charles Venn, Esq., ex-member of City Council, is back again to his old stamping ground. Walnut Hill has no fascinations for Charles as compared with the fair faces and fresh air of his native Ludlow.

Our Ludlow Baseball Club take a trip to Dayton, O., on Saturday, 25th, to play the crack club of that city. The game will take place on the grounds of the Soldiers' Home, after which a grand dress parade of the veterans of the Home. The gala day will wind up with a grand banquet in honor of the occasion.

Mr. Abadie, of the Ludlow B. B. C., is confined in his room by sickness, and will not be able to resume his position on the ball field for several days.

CENTHIANA, KY.—The first meeting of the Harrison County Fair Association began at the Fair Grounds near this city on Monday, with a good attendance of stock-raisers. We give a list of a few of the principal awards: Messrs. Thos. Corwin, Joseph Patterson, Joseph Hall, H. D. Ayres and Gus Shropshire. These awards were given for the best half and quarter horse, and for the best cow.

A wheel of fortune is running on the grounds, for which the managers pay $500 for that privilege. The wheel is well patronized by the green young men from the country. The Kentucky Central Railroad is running a train of three coaches from the depot to the Fair Grounds every half hour. Major S. S. Morey, of the Democrat, Col. Craddock, of the True Kentuckian, Col. D. Buynon, of the Lexington Live Stock Record, and our Cynthia reporter, attend the Fair daily. Col. Craddock is the leader of this newspaper gang.

LEXINGTON, KY.—Mr. Mitchell, wife and daughter, Major McClellan and wife, with others of our city, contemplate visiting Mammoth Cave in eight or ten days, and will explore the cave in full.

no half-way measures will satisfy them.

It is said that there are $400,000 in the Treasury at the credit of the Freedmen's Bank, of Lexington, or enough to pay the depositors a dividend of 15 per cent.

As Congress, however, ordered that not less than 20 per cent. should be declared, the 65,000 depositors must wait for their money till next December, and it is expected that the bank will be closed.

The failure of this institution was severely told by the industrious portion of the colored people of this city, and somewhat alienated them from the Republican leaders hereabouts.

The Fayette County Teachers' Institute held a two-days meeting, this week, in Lexington. Addresses were delivered by J. Fletcher Johnson, Esq., and Prof. Grehan, on the subject of moral education. One of the school-book publishers' agents was also there, but took no part in the exercises. The next meeting of the Institute will be held in this city, in October next.

Every meat store or grocer in this city who sells meat is required to pay a license of $40 a year in addition to his store taxes. This is another evidence of unwise legislation on the part of our City Council.

Chris Ford, a colored boy aged 14 years, the driver whose wagon ran over two children of Mr. Hughes, on Broadway last Saturday evening, was arrested and brought before Judge Royalty, who, on motion of County Attorney Vanmeter, transferred the case to the Recorder's Court.

Condemned Tracy will oppose the useless market-house project.

Congressman Jones, of the Covington district, in an address before the scholars and teachers of the Newport Public Schools, remarked "that he had sent his children there after trying the private schools, which could keep up with the progress of the public schools of that city." Lexington was a flourishing city when Newport was a cow-pasture; and to-day our city schools languish for the want of suitable buildings to educate the men and women who are to take our places on the stage of life. If the city has $500,000 for a new market-house, a suitable unnecessary, it can easily have double that amount for a school-house.

COVINGTON.—The Stars and Red Stockings next Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. Robert Fulton Williams, Deputy Clerk of the County Court, has discovered that it is not well for a man to live by himself, and therefore, yesterday, took unto himself a blooming little wife—Miss Mattie E. Webster, of Independence.

The Lower Market, next Saturday, will pass into oblivion.

The case of Henry Ritts, charged with perjury, came up before the Commissioner yesterday. Judge Guisler, attorney for defendant, in an argument of some length, moved to discharge Ritts on the ground that no sufficient evidence had been offered to warrant the commissioner to believe there were probable grounds that Mr. Ritts would be indicted, or, if indicted, convicted. After the arguments on both sides had been concluded, the Commissioner announced that he would prefer to take time to consider the question, and would announce his opinion at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Judge Phipps, of the county court, ordered the preparation of new plans to supply the places of lost or mutilated ones, of all the lands in this city and county of which plats have been ordered.

The amount of the delinquent tax list for 1874 is $1,535 67. The county court yesterday ordered that H. S. Perival, of Harrison County, be credited with the amount.

Mr. C. Jarvis Taylor, Deputy Sheriff, has lost a pocket-book containing some money and some valuable papers.

In the Mayor's Court, this morning, Henry Mayrose, for being drunk and disorderly, was fined $2 and costs. Charles Newell, charged with drunkenness and carrying concealed weapons, was fined $20 and costs.

What reason has the Enquirer for saying the Ludlows are the champions of Kentucky? The Stars wear that belt, and always will, so far as the Ludlows are concerned.

The printers of Scott street play the Madison street printers' nine, at the Star, and it is uncertain.

The editorial columns of the Daily News are terribly mutilated, this morning. As a poet, the young man is not a success.

NEWPORT.—G. F. Hayman, Esq., and daughter left last night for New York.

A collision occurred between a buggy and a street car Tuesday night which resulted in the occupant of the buggy being violently thrown out and severely injured. An end of a broken brake flew into the car and struck a lady passenger, inflicting a severe injury. The driver of the car escaped unhurt.

Baracks News—The musical programme at the Baracks yesterday evening, rendered by Prof. Horner's Band, was as follows: 1. March—'Pettit Jokers,' 2. Overture—'Jolly Jokers,' 3. Supper. 4. Waltz—'Wine, Women and Song,' Strauss. 5. Selection—'Uae Ballo in Alaschera,' Verdi. 6. Grand March from Tannhauser, Wagner. 7. Polka Mazurka, Zikoff. 7. National Air.

The Champion No. 9 Friday took the Odd-fellows of California, O., to Parker Grove on a picnic.

The Conductor is to come here to go on the Marquette and Erie routes.

The Era No. 9 will come off the ways Friday or Saturday.

The Boston has not arrived up to noon to-day.

There were heavy fogs along the river again this morning.

Work on Captain O. P. Shinkle's new Cincinnati and St. Louis passenger packet "Golden Rule" is progressing nicely at the Marine Ways. The keel, stem and part of the framework is already under considerable headway, and planking will be commenced next week. By Saturday the frame will be in such a condition as to give an idea about what she will be when completed.

The Golden Rule is to be 250 feet long, 20 feet beam and 6 feet hold. Her cabin will be built by Elias Ehler, and will be plain, neat and handsome. The furniture and bedding will be sent from New York to be 28 state rooms, fourteen on each side, and are to be 8 feet square. The rooms in the ladies' cabin are to be furnished with neat beds, and the ladies' cabin is to be 10 feet square.
